(By United Press)

Washington, May 26.—A group of the nation's financial leaders discussed the revival of export trade and the entire financial policy of the government toward foreign countries, at a dinner given by President Harding last night at the White House, it was learned today.

President Harding invited these bankers in order to ask their co-operation in carrying out whatever program is agreed upon.

Secretary of Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover also attended the dinner. The guests included J. P. Morgan, James A. Alexander, Paul Warburg and Charles A. Sabin.

PROGRAM AHEAD

Secretariat Complete the Schedule of Activities For The Summer Months

COUNCIL WILL MEET JUNE 6

Second Assembly of The League of Nations Will Meet at Geneva September 5

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Switzerland. (By Mail)—Although president Harding's announcement that the United States can never join the League of Nations in its present form is generally conceded to have killed the latter, nevertheless it is still keeping up a very marked degree of activity for a corpse.

The Secretariat today complete the program of activities for the summer months. The program includes:

June 6—Meeting at Geneva of the League's Council at which definite steps will probably be taken to meet President Harding's ideas as to what kind of a league the United States join.

June 30—Meeting at Geneva of the League's International Commission for the Suppression of White Slave Traffic, of which as a result of postwar conditions the world is now threatened with a recrudescence.

August 1—Meeting at Geneva of the League's International Commission on Emigration.

September 5—Meeting at Geneva of the Second Assembly of the League of Nations.

The latter session will last for about five weeks and will be even more important than the first one of November and December of last year. In the event it is possible to make over the league to meet the ideas of the United States the future basis of the League will be established at this time.

How Worms are Bred

The animal first has indigestion, then the food, the animal eats, does not digest and ferments, and during this process of fermentation the worms are bred.

The balance of your herd of hogs or flock of sheep soon become infested with worms, as the eggs pass off from the infested pig or sheep, and from these eggs the larvae are developed, these work their way up to the blades of grass and are picked up and in a short time, all of your hogs or sheep are loaded with these pests.

Relief is in Sight

The railroad labor board finally admits that a reduction in wages must be made. "Prevailing conditions justify to some extent, yet to be determined," says the board, "a readjustment downward of the wages of the employees of the carriers." The extent of the reductions is to be made known in the near future, after representatives of both parties to the disputes have been fully heard. It is announced that the new schedules will take effect on July 1.

The relief in sight for the railroads will be very acceptable when it comes, and the public will receive an ultimate benefit through a reduction in freight and passenger rates, reflected in reduced prices on everything into which transportation costs enter. It is regrettable that the change could not have come sooner. All through the war period the railroad employees were given successive increases in their wages, approximately following the rise in the cost of living. The peak of the food cost of living was reached in June, 1920, which date also represents the high tide of many other necessities of life. The following month the last big increase in wages granted the rail employees was announced by the labor board. It meant an added cost to the roads of about $600,000,000 a year, and raised all classes of workers approximately 21 per cent.

From that date the cost of living began to drop. Present retail food prices are less than two-thirds what they were a year ago. Clothing costs have been forced down almost as much. Owing to the slack in the building industry rents are not responding as quickly to the process of deflation, but the near future will show radical readjustment in them also. Throughout the whole year of price reductions the wages of the rail workers have remained at the high levels fixed last July. While prices were going up the workers were able to force their wages up also, but when prices were coming down the railroads and many other employers were unable to lower their labor costs accordingly.

The case as presented to the railway labor board by the roads was unanswerable, and no other decision than that handed down could have been rendered by intelligent and fair-minded men. It was proved that the roads were being forced to pay more for labor than they could employ it for in the open market; that the admitted reductions in the cost of living justified similar reductions in wage scales; that they were being forced to operate their properties at a loss because of exorbitant wages; and that they wished to give the public the benefit of decreased rates, but could not do so under the war wage schedules in force.

Had the drop in wages followed the decrease in living costs as closely as the rise in wages followed the increase in living costs the roads would have been saved close to a billion dollars, most of which would have been passed on the public in the shape of lower prices on all commodities and in dividends to millions of railroad stockholders. The people, in this case as in every other instance of taxation, have had to bear the burden and contribute the money to meet the swollen wage bills. But the end is apparently in sight, and, with the railroads on the road to health through the grant of normal wage scales, industry will respond to the readjusted freight rates that will follow, and the longest step yet taken toward normalcy will be recorded.

The remarkable spectacle is presented in Upper Silesia of soldiers of Germany and the allies fighting side by side against Silesian insurgents and Poles. While the leading allied nations are enforcing reparations against Germany in western Europe, they are cooperating with Germany against Poland in central Europe. How much value does Poland place upon her membership in the league of nations?

The British are in much the same boat as Americans as regards Federal war-time operation of the railroads. The English government has just appropriated 51,000,000 pound to pay claims arising from war agreements with the roads.

Foresakes Forceps For Film

The noble profession of dentistry is said to have lost one of its able practitioners when Sam de Grasse laid down his forceps to take up a film career. De Grasse known to every person who follows motion pictures. Usually he has the "heavy" or villainous role because of his marked ability in portraying gentlemanly bad men. No rough stuff goes with Sam. If he has to do a murder he makes it a work of art. Sometimes he is cast as the leading man and always makes a hit. All of which shows that De Grasse is an extraordinarily good actor.

De Grasse has the villain's part in "The Cheater Reformed", a William Fox production to open at the Mystic Theatre tomorrow. He is seen as Thomas Edinburgh, an unscrupulous financier, who covets the wife of a clergyman and uses every means to alienate her affections from her husband, whom he denounces as a crook.

"The Cheater Reformed" is reported to be a very startling and interesting pictured narration of a colossal deception. Scott Dunlap directed the picture from a story by Jules G. Furlman. Charming Seena Owen heads a cast of unusual worth.

"Smilin' Through."—Murat

"Smilin' Through," the big romantic comedy success, which is Jane Cowl's vehicle at present, in which she played to capacity houses and long runs in New York, Chicago, and San Francisco, is to be presented by the Stuart Walker Company at the Murat all next week. This promises to be one of the dramatic treats of the present season.

When Allan Langdon Martin wrote "Smilin' Through" he contributed to the American theatre one of the most delightful bits of dramatic writing that has been seen in the last decade. He took as his theme a love story with a sweet, impulsive high-tempered girl as its heroine, and related it in a manner diverting as it is different. The result is a stage masterpiece. The play, which is preceded by a prologue that is far too unique to be spoiled by being told in advance, begins in the garden of a crusty old man who has as his ward, a delightful wisp of an Irish girl. For years he has bitterly remembered the fact that another man has won the woman whom he loved. Therefore, when he finds this girl has fallen in love with the son of the man, he is furious and swears that they shall never marry. Then, back through the hazy vista of years that have passed comes the memory visualized. He lives over again the years he cannot forget and from them learns the lesson that he had never before learned with the result that, when the young lover returns, he permits them to be happy, and in so doing finds happiness himself.

Other Special Attractions

More special attractions will be offered the last two days of the week at the Princess theater in celebration of anniversary week. Two vaudeville numbers are billed—Izetta, an accordion player, and Boyer and Boyer, who give a singing and talking act. Izetta is a premier vaudeville attraction, having been at the Lyric theater in Indianapolis last week. Rushville people who heard her declare that her program is exceptionally good. The picture bill for the last two days is Pauline Frederick in "The Woman in Room 13" and a news reel.

Wallace Reid appears for the last time today in "The Love Special" and Miss Lillian Tatum, a soloist, will also be on the program again.

Wallace Reid is widely known as the athletic star. This is perhaps because of the many outdoor pictures in which he has appeared, and wherein he has shown in many

AUTHOR OF "BASEBALL FOR BEGINNERS"

SPEAKER'S BEAUTIFUL HITTING STYLE

One of the things that prove that a sound style is essential to good hitting is that all the good hitters practice one fundamental style which is forward shoulder and foot well into the line of the plate, level bat, swing, follow through. There may be variations but in the end, all good hitters hit pretty much alike.

The world will admit that Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland World's Champion Baseball Team, is one of the really great hitters, and a great baseball player of all time. Speaker has also the best styles of batting and of fielding of any player in the game. His batting style cannot be excelled. Ruth, the champion slugger, has a perfect batting style for his purpose, hitting home runs to right field. Ruth very infrequently hits to any field but to right. Speaker, on the other hand, hits to all fields. His hitting is directed not by one desire, to hit home runs over a certain fence, but to win the game by sending the ball to that part of the field where it will do his team the most good.

Speaker's fundamental style is the "one step." He stands well back of the plate and takes one step to hit. His step brings his right foot to a level with the forward edge of the plate.

But Speaker, like many other clever and ambitious players, will frequently vary his step according to the pitching he receives, the way the field is placed, where the runner he desires to advance is on, etc. So Speaker's style is worth study.

Speaker's "sneak up" is one of the most beautiful batting attacks I have ever seen. This is what he does:

As the pitcher delivers the ball Speaker will take two short, slow, cat-like steps, a short step first with his right foot, then with his left foot to bring him into hitting position. Then without pause he takes one more step with the right foot and hits. All the time he is in motion, Speaker is GOING IN TOWARDS THE LINE OF THE PITCH. The "sneak up" is done in good time and very softly and slowly so as not to disarrange the eye.

The value of this shift, as of all shifts of batting step, is that it effectively prevents the pitcher from putting the ball in the exact place he wants to put it and gives the batter better command of the ball than if he kept his rear foot planted in one position and took just one step to hit.

Then, by moving up on the pitch the batter gets momentum, puts more weight and power into his bat stroke.

Speaker's "sneak up" style of hitting is beautiful and effective. I recommend it highly to any young player who wants to practice it. As a batting style it cannot be excelled. Of all the shifts in batting steps it is in my opinion the best.

J. B. Sheridan

SPEAKER'S EFFECTIVE HITTING SHIFT

The great manager, hitter and fielder of the Cleveland World Champions takes up his position far back in the batter's box. As the pitcher is about to deliver the ball Speaker instead of taking one step to hit, takes two steps to get into a new hitting position, then one more step, or three steps in all, to hit. Speaker makes his shift very slowly and softly, somewhat like a great big cat sneaking up to get into position to spring on his quarry. There is no pause between the steps they go one, two, three, CRACK. A beautiful attack upon a pitched ball.

THE LINE OF THE PITCH.

Speaker's "sneak up" style of hitting is beautiful and effective. I recommend it highly to any young player who wants to practice it. As a batting style it cannot be excelled. Of all the shifts in batting steps it is in my opinion the best.

DOG TO DO WORK WITH CARPENTIER

Trim Fastidious Young Frenchman Will Talk Fluently About Everything But His Business

"FLIP" WAS HIS WAR MASCOT

Carpentier Came Over to Run Over The Roads and Work on a Farm, Not to Walk on Fifth Avenue

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 25.—If you want the best way to raise a baby girl, if you would like to take some lessons in teaching a dog tricks, if you want to take a good beating at any kind of a card game but poker, put Georges Carpentier on your list.

If you have a desire to talk boxing or get some inside first hand information on who'll win the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, consult anybody but Carpentier.

The trim, fastidious young Frenchman who journeyed over here to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's championship will talk fluently about everything but his business.

Carpentier can speak fluently too. He picked up a lot of English from the Tommies and Doughboys during the war but he was a little bit backward last year about using it.

The newspapermen who went down the bay to meet him on his recent arrival learned with some surprise that the European heavyweight champion can shake a wicked tongue on English.

Before boarding the liner, the scribes made the pleasant discovery that one of their number could speak French. After making a peripatetic ascent over the side of a rope ladder, the reporters, swept Carpentier and his manager, Descamps, into the main saloon where all gathered around a big table and proceeded to cross examine Descamps through the interpreter.

Carpentier found the interviewing such a slow process that he butted in and answered all the questions in perfect English.

"When did you pick the language, George?" one of the surprised scribes asked.

"I had it last year," he answered, "But I didn't have the nerve to use it."

The Frenchman didn't bring along the trunks full of fancy clothes that he had with him the last time.

"I came over to run over the roads and work on a farm, not to walk on your Fifth Avenue. Perhaps after July 2nd I will put on what you call the glad rags," he said.

The police dog, "Flip," is a big strong fellow who runs like a wolf, and is Carpentier's best pal. Around the training quarters at Manhasset, "Flip" was the Frenchman's mascot during the war and saw a lot of action around Verdun.

"Flip" is very particular about the way his young master is treated. A strange hand laid even so lightly on Carpentier's shoulder brings a threatening growl from the animal, he bares a mouthful of long teeth and the hair comes up on his back.

"He'd be a good assistant at the ring side," one of the reporters remarked to Carpentier.

"Yes he would—if I needed him," the Frenchman came back with one of his smiles.

TWO GAMES ARE SCHEDULED

Tail Lights to Play in Rushville Sunday and Decoration Day

The Tail Lights will play two strong teams here, meeting the Marion Ramblers on Sunday and the I. O. O. F. team from Indianapolis on Monday, Decoration Day. The fast Marion Ramblers have a pitcher by the name of Henn, who is said to be one of the best in the state. Last Sunday the Ramblers defeated the Cambridge City Grays for the first time this season, 4 to 3, and some idea as to the strength of the winners may be learned from that game. The Odd Fellows team which comes Monday is the same team that won the Fraternal league championship last year in Indianapolis, and several former Rushville players are said to be on the line-up including Eddie Cook, Spellman and Pierce.

Both games will be called at 2:30 on each day.

The Prince Stopped Smoking

London, May 26.—When the Prince of Wales attended the London Working Boy's Club's boxing tournament, the secretary requested the audience to refrain from smoking. At the time the Prince was enjoying a cigaret.

The secretary turned to the Prince and said "Of course I except Your Royal Highness".

The Prince laughed and at once threw away his cigarette.

Think This Over

If some of the money spent for cigarettes to fasten the expensive habit on doughboys who hadn't been smokers of coffin nails before the war, had been saved to be used for the actual benefit of the boys after the war, both the boys and the rest of us would be far better off today.—Farm Life.

What Is Disease?

Those who have backache, headache, goitre, heart trouble, stomach trouble, indigestion, constipation, rheumatism, neuritis, or any one of the hundred and one ills of the body will answer by saying that his particular trouble is dis-ease.

Dis-ease is any departure from the normal in the human body.

Dis-ease is caused, by a structural derangement in the spinal column.

To look for dis-ease the Chiropractor makes an analysis of the spinal column.

The vertebra that is out of line, pressing on the nerve is the cause.

The Chiropractor adjusts the cause.

The Chiropractor Says of Disease:

Lack of nerve energy to the parts of the body that are affected is the cause of disease.

Adjust the cause, the vertebra that is out of alignment, and Nature restores the dis-eased part to a condition of ease.

Anyone who will investigate Chiropractic, will grant that it offers the practical way to health.

Chiropractic gets many chronic cases, cases of long standing, cases that have not been helped by other methods of therapy. Chiropractic holds out hope to those persons suffering from so-called chronic disease.

Comfort in Glasses

Next in importance to proper lenses, is the proper adjustment of frames to the face.

There are no two faces in the wide world exactly alike, therefore, you see how impossible it is to select one's own glasses.

We have made a special study of frame bending and frame measurements and know how to fit glasses to give best results and perfect ease and comfort to the wearer.

Part of the benefit you derive from glasses comes of their fitting accurately and securely. Occasional adjustment—for which we make no charge—is a part of the service our patrons enjoy.

At the regular meeting of the Rebekah lodge Friday evening work will be given candidates and all members of the degree staff are urged to be present.

The last social party of the season of the K. of C. lodge was given last evening in the lodge rooms in West Second street. The guests present spent the evening in playing euchre and with a box supper.

Mrs. Maud Talbert living southwest of the city, was hostess for the members of the Dorcas Circle of the Methodist Sunday school from Morristown Wednesday. A delicious picnic dinner was served and the guests enjoyed a sociable afternoon. Mrs. Frank Flint and the Rev. Emma Miller of this city were guests.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Loretta Talkington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Talkington of East Tenth street, to Eddie M. Yentz, son of Charles Yentz of Lima, Ohio, which occurred Tuesday in Lima. Mr. and Mrs. Yentz will make their home for the present in Lima, where the bridegroom is employed. The bride is well known here, having been a graduate of the local high school and for the past year has been employed as stenographer for Tittsworth and Green, lawyers.

The Psi Iota Xi sorority entertained with a prettily appointed luncheon yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Alliene Budd in North Harrison street, honoring their pledges, the Misses Brenda Kinsinger, Frances Bowen, Florence Fleehart and Helen Lambert. ADDRESSES A BOYS' CLASS

Judge Sparks Speaks to Young Men at 1st Presbyterian Church

Judge Will M. Sparks spoke to John Gantner's Bible class of boys at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, dwelling on points of particular interest to young men, and was listened to with rapt attention. Every other week the class holds a picnic dinner in the church basement and enjoys a social function.

The Rev. Mr. Bardelmeier, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Connersville, who has been called to the Greensburg Presbyterian church, was present. He made a short talk in which he spoke of the esteem in which Judge Sparks is held in Connersville, and commented upon the judge's great and helpful interest in young people.

COPIES OF ACTS RECEIVED HERE

which to register his car. Dealers who have second hand cars must register them but no fee is charged them by the state. A fee of $1 is charged each individual owner and this fund created is to be known as an automobile theft fund. The secretary of state's deputies under this act will have state-wide police powers.

Rear view mirrors on trucks—This law is now in effect and peace officers throughout the state are being urged to see to it that it is enforced. This will prevent hogging the roads by trucks, the drivers of which can not hear a passenger car behind them. Dealers are not permitted to sell new trucks without fitting them with rear view mirrors.

Road patrol law—requires counties to keep repair material along main highways and to patrol roads so that chuck holes are filled when they begin to form.

Detour signs—Requires county to place sign at road barrier indicating detour, and to use red light at night. County is required to mark detour all the way around to the main road again.

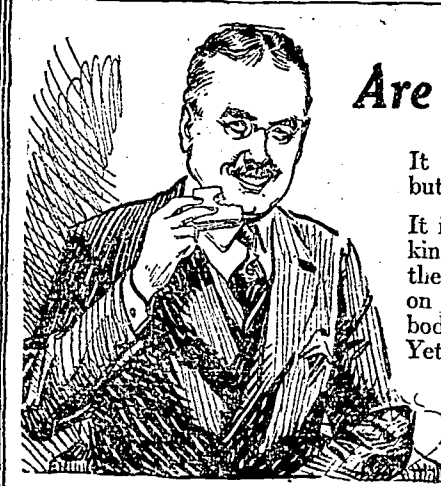

Danger signs—Additional warning signs required to be placed 300 feet away from railroad crossing.

There are many other laws affecting highways and motor transportation included in the new statutes. The Hoosier State Automobile Association succeeded in killing a bill which would have increased the passenger car license fees more than 100% and another bill would have placed a tax on gasoline. By the action of the automobile association motor car owners of the state have been saved nearly $3,000,000 a year. "Since our association is not organized for profit and is the only organization in Indiana working for the welfare of motor car owners, we feel this is the best reason why each motor car owner should become a member of our association" declares Manager Noblet.

Are you a judge of butter?

It takes a person who is "particular" about butter to appreciate the goodness of Brednut. It is delicious on hot food or cold, and in all kinds of cooking. Brednut tastes exactly like the freshest creamery butter; looks like it, when on the table; spreads like it; and has all the body building elements found in creamery. Yet Brednut costs much less.

Try this butter-spread made from rich, pure cream of coconuts. Your money back if you are not entirely satisfied.

The famous ace is enroute to Washington, D. C. At 4:06 a. m. he was forced to return on account of the fog. He then waited until the fog lifted and took off again.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Conquered or Money Back

It has wonderfully benefitted tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder troubles and is the medicine you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.

NOTE.—Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great Prescription, Marshroot aided thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. PEPSINCO

Sometimes in front just under the heart, sometimes around under the left side, under the ribs behind the heart it's a sharp or acute pains; sometimes a dull heavy pain, leaving soreness. It's gas on the inside generated through gaseous foods, or, because of systematic inability to properly assimilate the food, this gas soon collecting, forms a lump that causes the pain. This is only one of a dozen different indications of indigestion which PEPISINCO immediately relieves.—Keep PEPISINCO handy and take it the next time.
